B) Report

I.Title

Faculty Development Program on Innovative Teaching Methodologies.

II. Introduction

Faculty Development Program on “Innovative Teaching Methodologies” was successfully conducted from 27th March to 29th March 2025 at Rajarshi Shahu Mahavidyalaya, Latur (Autonomous). The sessions were facilitated by Mr. Kalyan Vishwanathan, an expert in educational innovation and pedagogy. The primary objective of this program was to enhance the teaching competencies of faculty members by introducing them to modern, student-centric pedagogical approaches. The sessions focused on equipping educators with innovative strategies that promote active learning, critical thinking, and student engagement in the classroom. Key aspects covered during the program included outcome-based education (OBE), integration of ICT tools in teaching, flipped classroom techniques, problem-based learning (PBL), formative assessment methods, and strategies for inclusive teaching. Participants were also introduced to effective lesson planning, classroom management, and techniques for creating a dynamic and interactive learning environment.

III.Objectives of the programme/ issues addressed

- To enhance faculty awareness of innovative and student-centric teaching methodologies.
- To promote the adoption of active learning strategies such as flipped classrooms and problem-based learning (PBL).
- To improve teaching effectiveness and learner engagement through modern pedagogical practices.
- To support the creation of inclusive and interactive learning environments in higher education.
- To foster continuous professional development and improve the overall quality of teaching and learning in higher education.

IV. Details of Participants

137 participants (85 Male and 52 female) attended the Programme.

V. Brief Summary of Events/ Sessions

The Department of Biotechnology organized Faculty Development Program on "Innovative Teaching Methodologies" from 27th to 29th March 2025 for faculty members to enhance their teaching skills and adapt to modern pedagogical approaches. On Day 1, Mr. Kalyan Vishwanathan introduced the concept of student-centric teaching and the importance of outcome-based education (OBE). The session focused on aligning learning outcomes with teaching strategies and assessment methods. On Day 2, the emphasis was on the integration of ICT tools in teaching and the implementation of flipped classroom techniques to promote active learning. Participants were engaged in hands-on activities to explore various digital platforms and tools. On Day 3, the sessions covered problem-based learning (PBL), inclusive teaching strategies, and effective classroom management. Interactive discussions and case studies helped participants understand the practical application of innovative methodologies to enhance learner engagement and academic performance. The program provided a comprehensive platform for professional growth and teaching excellence.

VI. Conclusion, with Feedback on the Programme

Faculty members gained a clear understanding of how innovative and student-centric teaching methodologies can enhance classroom engagement and improve learning outcomes. The interactive nature of the sessions encouraged active participation and critical reflection on existing teaching practices, making the experience both enriching and practical. Feedback received from participants was overwhelmingly positive. Faculty appreciated the clarity, relevance, and applicability of the content, and many expressed interest in integrating the discussed methodologies into their regular teaching. The program was also recognized as a valuable initiative in bridging the gap between traditional teaching approaches and modern educational needs.
