B) Report

i) Title: Essay Writing Competition

ii) Introduction:

The Department of Botany organized an Essay Writing Competition on the occasion of the birth anniversary of Norman Borlaug, a globally renowned agricultural scientist known as the “Father of the Green Revolution.” This program was conducted with the objective of creating awareness among students about his remarkable contributions to agriculture, food security, and sustainable development.

Norman Borlaug dedicated his life to improving crop production and combating hunger across the world. His innovative research and development of high-yielding varieties of wheat significantly transformed agricultural practices, especially in developing countries like India. In recognition of his extraordinary efforts, he was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize in 1970.

iii) Objectives of the programme:

1. To create awareness among students about the life and contributions of Norman Borlaug in the field of agriculture and global food security.
2. To highlight the significance of the Green Revolution and its impact on countries like India.
3. To encourage students to develop critical thinking and express their ideas effectively through writing.
4. To inspire students to contribute towards solving global challenges like hunger and malnutrition.

iv) Details of participants: (Male-06 & Female-12)

v) Brief summary of Events:

The event witnessed active participation and thoughtful expression from students. Participants effectively highlighted the role of Norman Borlaug in transforming agricultural practices and addressing global hunger. The competition served as a platform for students to enhance their writing abilities and deepen their understanding of agricultural development. The students of botany department participated with full enthusiasm and spirits. This activity enhances the creativity and thinking ability in the area of writing. All the staff members of Botany department conducted competition successfully.

vi) Conclusion of programme:

The competition helped the students to understand the problem of women’s education and Gender Equity. This Competition motivated the students for their participation in various events. This also developed interest of the students about essay writing and writing skills.
