B) Report

i. Title: Inauguration of “TechnoMinds” Computer Science Association & Workshop on NLP & Machine Learning

ii. Introduction

Department of Computer Science, Rajarshi Shahu Mahavidyalaya (Autonomous) Latur had organized an “Inauguration of “TechnoMinds” Computer Science Association & Workshop on NLP & Machine Learning.”

iii. Objectives of the Competition / issues addressed:

- To Bridge the gap between theory and practice: By organizing workshops, seminars, and coding competitions, provide hands-on experience, making our knowledge more applicable.
- To Foster collaboration and networking: This platform will connect students, faculty, and industry experts, facilitating knowledge sharing and career opportunities.
- To Develop essential skills: Association will focus on enhancing programming, problem-solving, and communication skills, making us industry-ready.
- Skill Development: Equip participants with practical skills in Natural Language Processing (NLP) and Machine Learning (ML).

iv. Details of Participants: Total 74 under graduate students (Male 26 & Female 46) from different colleges affiliated to the Swami Ramanand Teerth University, Nanded.

v. Brief Summary of Events/ Sessions:

- At the outset of this function, all the honorable dignitaries and respected guests were felicitated with a bouquet. All the newly appointed office bearers of the TechnoMinds were announced and felicitated by respected Principal Dr. Mahadev Gavhane, honorable Chief Guest Dr. M. M. Betkar, and Head of the Computer Science Department Dr. Renuka Londhe. Ms. Bhakti Panshette enlightened everyone on the motive behind the formation of the “TechnoMinds” Computer Science Association (CSA) in her talk.
- Head of the Computer Science Department Dr. Renuka Londhe highlighted the importance of discipline in student college life by narrating Sudha Murthy's story of Lazy Portado.
- Chief Guest Dr. Betkar announced the formal inauguration of the TechnoMinds Computer Science Association. He further congratulated Dr. Renuka Londhe on the formation of TechnoMinds and motivated students to develop and apply their knowledge of Computer Science to understand societal problems and find solutions for them.
- In the Presidential address, Principal Dr. Mahadev Gavhane guided the students to develop their critical thinking by citing examples of famous entrepreneurs like Mr. Ritesh Agarwal of OYO, Deepinder Goyal, and Pankaj Chaddah of Zomato, and Jack Ma of Alibaba Group.

- Post the inaugural function, an online workshop on NLP and Machine Learning was organized. The resource person for this workshop was Dr. S. S. Chowhan, Associate Professor from Jain University, Bengaluru. Dr. Chowhan guided the students on aspects of NLP and ML. He started with a brief history of NLP, and the components and steps involved in NLP. Further, he elaborated on the implementation aspects of syntactic analysis, and various types of ambiguities such as syntactic ambiguity, semantic ambiguity, and pragmatic ambiguity.
- Dr. Chowhan also enthralled the students by explaining the stages involved in NLP, such as text preprocessing and part-of-speech tagging. Finally, he concluded his talk by highlighting the applications of Natural Language Processing (NLP) and Machine Learning.

vi. Conclusion with feedback on the Programme:

- The “TechnoMinds” CSA inauguration and Workshop on NLP & Machine Learning was a resounding success, marked by the felicitation of dignitaries and the insightful speeches highlighting the significance of discipline, innovation, and societal contributions.
- Principal Dr. Mahadev Gavhane, Chief Guest Dr. M M Betkar, and Dr. Renuka Londhe Ma’am inspired students to harness their computer science knowledge to address societal issues.
- The event set a strong foundation for the newly formed association, promising a bright future of technological advancements and community engagement.
