B) A Report

i. Title: Thalassemia Awareness Rally

ii. Introduction:

On Marathwada Mukti Din, a Thalassemia Awareness Rally was organized to spread public awareness about Thalassemia—a hereditary blood disorder that requires timely diagnosis and preventive healthcare measures. The rally was conducted under the guidance of Bhalchandra Blood Bank, Latur and NCC units of Rajarshi Shahu Mahavidyalaya, Latur (Autonomous). NCC cadets actively participated with great enthusiasm, raising awareness among citizens through slogans and disciplined movement throughout the route.

iii. Objectives of the Rally/ issues addressed:

- To create awareness about Thalassemia, its causes, symptoms, and preventive measures.
- To educate the public on the importance of early screening, blood tests, and genetic counseling.
- To encourage the community to support voluntary blood donation, essential for Thalassemia patients.
- To highlight the need for public health awareness and promote a sense of social responsibility.
- To observe Marathwada Mukti Din by engaging youth in meaningful community service activities.

iv. Details of Participants:

A total of 65 NCC cadets enthusiastically participated in the Thalassemia Awareness Rally, comprising 42 SD cadets. The rally was conducted under the able supervision of Lt. Dr. Mahesh Wavare, who guided the cadets throughout the event. All the participating cadets displayed excellent discipline, coordination, and commitment while spreading awareness among the public through impactful slogans and active involvement along the entire rally route.

v. Rally Route:

The rally began from Town Hall and proceeded through the following major locations:

Rajarshi Shahu Mahavidyalaya, Latur (Autonomous)-Mahatma Gandhi Chowk – Hanuman Chowk – Town Hall -Mahatma Gandhi Chauk-Ganj Golai – Gul Market – Rajarshi Shahu Mahavidyalaya, Latur (Autonomous).

The route covered significant public areas, ensuring maximum outreach and visibility.

vi. Conclusion, with Feedback on the Programme:

The Thalassemia Awareness Rally received positive response from the local citizens, who appreciated the efforts of the NCC cadets. The rally successfully conveyed the message regarding the importance of Thalassemia awareness, screening, and preventive healthcare.

The disciplined participation of the cadets reflected their commitment to social causes and community welfare. The event not only spread awareness but also motivated youth to take active roles in public health initiatives.

The programme concluded with positive feedback from all participants, reaffirming the role of NCC in nation-building and community engagement.
